

EFFECTING POSITIVE CHANGE IN THE WORKERS' COMPENSATION INDUSTRY

PRESIDENT

Artemis Emslie

SECRETARY

Danielle Lisenbey

TREASURER

Lisa Hannusch

MEMBERS AT LARGE

Michele Adams

Magdalena Alvarez-Miller

Nanette de la Torre

Kimberly George

Laure Lamy

Ann Schnure

Nina Smith-Garmon

ABOUT US

The Alliance of Women in Workers' Compensation (AWWC) was formed in 2016 when two women organizations (Women in Workers' Compensation and the Women Executives in Workers' Compensation) merged to create a single entity.

The mission of the AWWC is to effect positive change in the workers' compensation industry through networking, support, mentoring and collaboration.

OUR PURPOSE

Through the Alliance, the organization provides opportunities for women to:

Engage with accomplished industry professionals and build lasting relationships.

Enrich their knowledge base with tactical insights from speakers and panelists.

Explore opportunities and challenges facing women leaders today.

Encounter senior executive's perspectives on leadership.

Examine leadership strategies and how to effectively apply the strategies.

Empower ourselves to achieve success and groundbreaking results.

WHAT MAKES THE AWWC SPECIAL?

We are a unique organization that brings together an entire industry to work together for the common good. Our goal of inclusivity is manifested in our encouragement of women and men alike to participate in the organization to work side by side for the advancement of women and for the betterment of the industry overall. The AWWC organization:

- Ⓜ Works to open a dialogue on the challenges and opportunities for women in the workplace.
- Ⓜ Discusses overall challenges faced by the employers serving for the workers' compensation market, such as how to attract and retain talent, generational differences in the workplace, communication and conflict resolution, and negotiation techniques.
- Ⓜ Provides camaraderie and opportunities for women wishing to expand their professional network.

THINK TANK DISCUSSIONS WITH INDUSTRY PROFESSIONALS

The AWWC attracts thought leaders committed to discussing challenges and emerging trends in the Workers' Compensation industry such as:

- Ⓜ Understanding Your Personal Brand
- Ⓜ Women & Leadership
- Ⓜ Preparing for Corporate Board Service
- Ⓜ Leadership Development